Ventive Hospitality partners with Conrad Maldives with Roarsome

Ventive Hospitality has announced a collaboration between Conrad Maldives Rangali Island and Roarsome, aimed at enhancing family-focused experiences through outdoor and nature-based activities. The initiative introduces Roarsome-themed adventure programmes for children at the resort, including treasure hunts, exploration trails and interactive outdoor activities designed to encourage engagement with the natural environment. The experiences will include structured "Adventure Quests", where young guests navigate the island using illustrated maps while learning about marine ecosystems and sustainability practices. The collaboration also includes the availability of Roarsome merchandise at the resort, extending the brand experience beyond the stay.

Ranjit Batra said, "Hospitality has the power to shape experiences that stay with people for life, especially young minds. Roarsome's mission to get kids off screens and back into the outdoors is both timely and important. Through Conrad Maldives Rangali Island, we are bringing that mission to life in one of the most extraordinary natural environments in the world. This first-of-its-kind collaboration shows how hospitality and purpose-driven brands can come together to shape a future rooted in purpose and sustainability, where we constantly strive to create a better world for the next generation"

Roarsome, known for producing children's outdoor apparel using recycled materials, is expanding its international presence through this partnership.

The collaboration will be available from April 2, 2026, with additional seasonal activities planned around Easter.
